NEW ORLEANS TRIP FOR CONTEST WINNERS

Young people who like to learn about staying healthy through home economics will probably be pleased to learn that their knowledge can help them win a trip to New Orleans.

GETTING INVOLVED WITH THE COMMUNITY can win a trip for a home economics class.

A one-week, expenses-paid trip for an entire home economics class and its teacher is the grand prize in this year's Fleischmann Yeast's Share the Health Contest. The New Orleans holiday is in conjunction with the American Home Economics Association convention.

Other prizes include scholarships, teacher trips and class pizza parties. As many as 11 classes may win.

All who participate can benefit by getting involved in the community, while learning about good nutrition, menu planning and budget management.

The contest is open to all junior or senior high school home economics classes. Each class must choose among eight community groups and analyze that particular group's nutritional needs, while planning a week's menu to meet those needs. The menus should consist of a variety of dishes, including yeast breads and rolls.

The groups are: senior citizens, children ages 6 to 12, pregnant women, low-income families, an athletic team, the overweight, adults who live alone and persons on special medical diets. Each class is expected to involve itself as much as possible with its chosen group.

For a free booklet about the contest, write: Standards Brands Educational Service, Drawer A-Contest, Madison Square Station, New York, N.Y. 10010.

SOUTHSIDE AREA CONVENTION IN LYNCHBURG

A slide presentation on "Farm and Home Life in Russia" by Fred Rhea of Cumberland County, is among the program features planned for the 22nd Annual Southside Area Convention of Young Farmers and Young Homemakers. The convention will be held in the Holiday Inn, South, Lynchburg, Nov. 16.

Registration will begin at 3:30 p.m. with the first session of the convention getting underway at 4 p.m. Mrs. Lettie Collins of Tunstall, president of Southside Area Young Homemakers, and Richard Hubbard of Amelia, president of Southside Area Young Homemakers, and Richard Hubbard of Amelia, president of Southside Area Young Farmers, will preside over sessions of the one-day convention.

Mrs. Shirley Walton of the Cooperative Extension Service will speak on "Homemaking - An Expression of Beauty Worldwide" during the afternoon session of Young Homemakers. Speaking to the Young Farmers at the first session will be Robert Bryan of the Virginia Farm Bureau.

Presentation of the "Outstanding Young Farm Family of the Year in Southside Area" award will be the highlight of the convention. The award will be made during the dinner session by Harry Redd, a member of the State Executive Committee of Virginia Young Farmers.

ABOUT YOUR SCOIAL SECURITY

"Social Security benefits were being paid to residents of Appomattox County at the rate of $289,501.00 a month at the start of 1977," William J. Vinson, Social Security manager in Lynchburg said today.

Social Security benefits can be paid to retired persons, age 62 and over, to workers who become several disabled before age 65, and to survivors of deceased workers.

Monthly Social Security checks are also paid to certain dependents of a worker who has retired, become disabled or died.

Of the 1,828 Social Security beneficiaries living in Appomattox County, 924 are retired workers and 160 are disabled workers. Another 209 persons are receiving benefits as the wives or husbands of retired or disabled workers. Widows, widowers and dependent parents of deceased workers number 255.

In Appomattox County, 698 people under age 65 and 1,128 people age 65 and older are receiving monthly Social Security benefits. Of total beneficiaries, 670 are men, 878 are women and 278 are children.

Statewide, 320,920 retired workers receive an average monthly benefit of $208.00. For every 1,000 persons age 65 or over in Virginia, 578 receive Social Security benefits.
